“ My dawg it's foe feezee missing you and just found out of this and don't know what happened yet but my dawg I love you and we had some great days and great memories that I will never forget and now who am I gonna be moving or cleaning for? But one thing is for sure you always treated my white butt as family as I did the same and hope that means something somewhere to someone somewhere that color doesn't make a man it's his character that makes who he is. Fatz my dawg I know you can rest in peace now and we are all headed for the same place and you just beat me there my brother and much love and sorry it took so long to find out but just know I was looking for my dawg. And prayers for momma and the family
